SERVICE

These days many people are coming forward to serve the poor, orphans and downtrodden. Service to mankind is service to God. Through selfless service one can get God's grace. To serve orphan children for their individual development is indeed a noble service. These children are to be taught moral values, spiritual discipline and buildup samskars in their lives. Many donors feel happy to donate wealth for upliftment of above children. It is noble gesture in their part. Every citizen should serve the cause of poor orphan students and help them to become the good citizens of the country. So, service with love.
